

From “PIANISTE”, September issue 2009

The renowned French music trade magazine “Pianiste“ reviewed the Schimmel piano K 122 Elegance in its instrument test:

“The K 122 Elegance is characterized by its extremely rich tone and its huge musical potential. A colorful middle register, a tender and luminous upper register and a deep and substantial lower register make this instrument one of the best in its category. The consistency between the different pitches is just perfect. The Renner action appears very effective and provides, in particular, an excellent repetition and a perfect control over the very quiet tones. The upright case manufacturing is exemplary.”
